

Carbfix's Human Resources Policy

The employees at Carbfix are qualified and content, and have the ambition and ability to perform the tasks the company's operations call for.

The company is a desirable workplace which emphasizes project culture and where professional knowledge and a service-oriented mindset go hand in hand and wages and facilities are competitive.

Carbfix ensures that all employees are equal.

Carbfix focuses on applying systematic personnel management so that human resources are utilized fully.

The human resources policy is based on Carbfix's values and business strategy and presented in accordance with the ownership strategy of Reykjavik Energy.